MULTAN

Multan, known as the "City of Saints," is one of South Asia's oldest cities and a major cultural and historical center in Punjab, Pakistan. It is famous for its Sufi shrines, including those of Shah Rukn-e-Alam, Bahauddin Zakariya, and Shams Tabriz, as well as historic landmarks such as Multan Fort. The city is also known for its rich cuisine, especially Multani Sohan Halwa, traditional arts, cultural festivals, and distinctive Islamic architecture. Despite its extremely hot summers, Multan remains an important hub for education, culture, pilgrimage, and regional economic activity, with institutions such as Emerson University Multan and Nishtar Medical University.
